Dear Leah;

At last I have got down to my correspondence after the rush of work due to workers spending what little they have been able to save for the Xmas and New Year festivities. Life has been so drab for them that a little release from it at this time of year is very welcome. And yet if they would only use the head, as Eddie Shaw describes it, they could live a life free from its sordidness, immediately.

Although I have not written myself, Jessie has kept me up-to-date with your travels to hospital etc. This time I am her "Secretary" and am instructed to inform you that she will be writing you in a day or two.

I hope you received the Radio and have had it fixed up, and are quite pleased with it, and getting plenty of stations. Don't forget to fill up the Guarantee Card and post it. The cost to you is £18-7-8. Vero tells me that you want to pay full price for it. Now Leah, on no account will you do that. I am not making profit out of Comrades.

I haven't heard whether it's a boy or a girl or both or how Marie-Louise is getting on. I hope she is well.

Give my best wishes to all the Comrades.

Your's fraternally,

Frank
